

Experiences - "ed" vs. "ing"

A Quick-Reference Guide

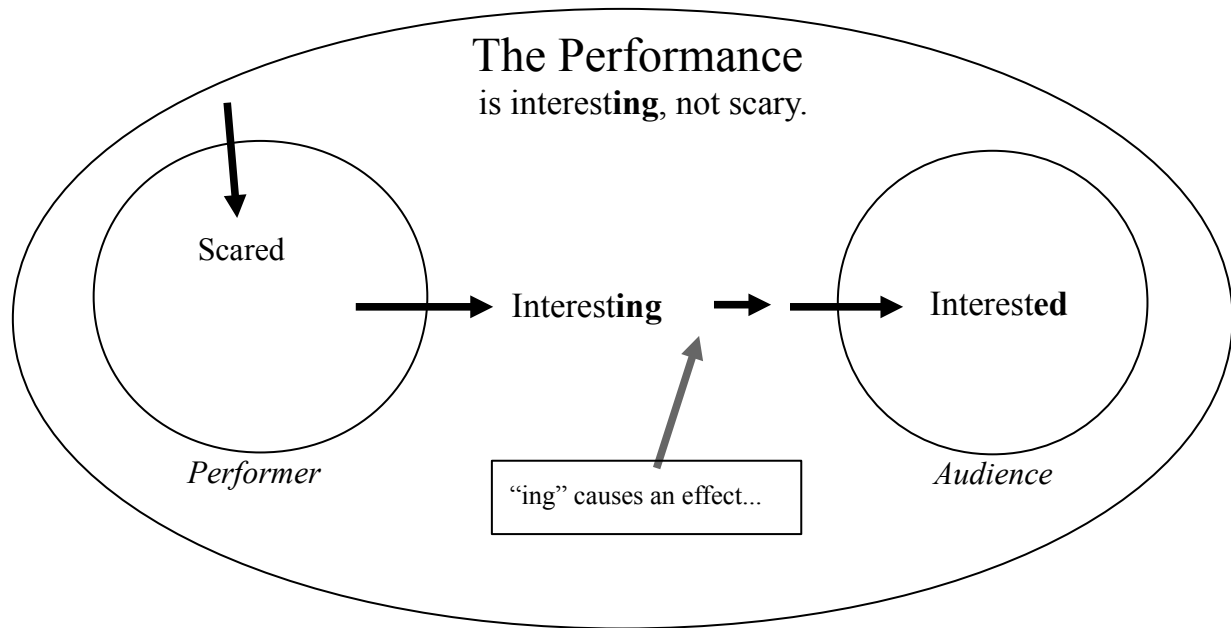

Figure 1:

A scared performer is interesting, and so interests, not scares, the interested audience.

The performer is scared.
The performer is interesting.
The audience is interested.
The audience is not scared.

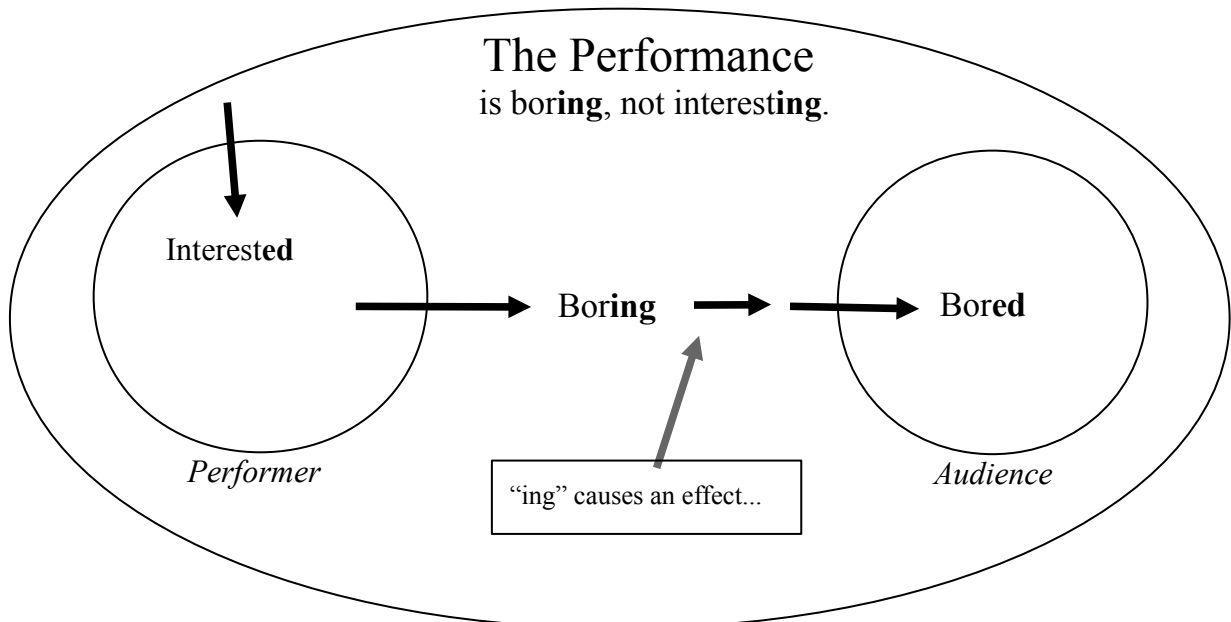

Figure 2:

An interested performer is boring, and so bores, not interests, the bored audience.

The performer is interested.
The performer is boring.
The audience is bored.
The audience is not interested.

