

Tongue Twisters 早口言葉

A Quick-Reference Guide

1. Link, tinkering, winked at the dinky, zinc, jinxed, chinked, and shrinking, sink by the rink, I think.
2. Sally said: She sells sea-shells, by the sea shore.
See Sally's seaside shell shop's shell-shocked salt shaker's simmer simply shimmer?
3. I bought six or seven silk suits, at Shirley's shady shop; she said reassuringly they seldom show signs of shedding.
4. Before cooking, bathe the bass in a shell-salt bath.
5. Vicky pickled bunches of boiled prickly vicar-berries.
6. Barry Lubics, the famous ballet instructor, bounced Bailey's Berry-ball from his belly to the bar.
7. Pooh-san, said "Voo," being booed, because it was he who'd left Sue's wooden shoe and food at the Zoo.
8. Mary played her merry oval Oboe, over and over, under the thorny arbor, before the swarm, as the two were sworn to marry.
9. Vic, the vicar, puckered, bickered, and picked and licked the wick from Rick's chocolate candle violin.
10. Sloan (who'd flown) said she'd sought the thought, so fraught, yet so rarely taught.
11. Zack, Jack and Jacques the Jock for a joke opened up the application-operator's apple.
12. Peter Piper picked a peck of pickled peppers. How many peppers did Peter Piper pick?
13. The very valuable variables vary in value but the variety of the volumes validates a vague, yet voluminous, validity, quite in vogue.
14. Bert Bailey, while barely burning the burly barley in the bureau's borrowed barrow by, but below, Blow's Burrow, glimpsed a bored polar bear buying bowls of bottled beer from a bream in Bali.
15. The symbol for thimble may tremble the treble, and be tricked in the thick of the trouble into tumbling and crumbling into shambles.
16. Choosing a truck over an apple, in troubling over traveling, I observed it as it absorbed the whale awhile.
17. The calm club's loving glowing crew was crowing for clues to the globe's gluey glove that grew in the clammy cold of Coal's Cove to the culm of a lobe of a clove.
18. In the Shire, she shied away in the shade as she heard that the sordid circuit seared and sheered, and sighed, and then sired, shaved, and shared the ceremonial sherbet with its friends, over coffee.
19. Abandoned Albanian abalone is abundant abutting a ballooning or abnormally protuberant baboon's Avalon.
20. The little lily on the Liddy Lady's lad's lapel, all laden in leaky liquid as it was, was white.
21. Although authors agreed on the altered all-source memo that all sauce assuages all ulcers, all Sirs of the society will be meeting in July.
22. Based on the above results, the basil B-Cell's vessels expressed a basal response.
23. On surged the scorching scourge, ravaging the scavenging scoundrel, and spurring you yourself to spurn these spooled, dried, knots of inkling.
24. Playing on the floor,
she noted the plural flagrant notes of chlorine in the pure floral playground fragrance.
25. The registrar registered the resistance in the new residences to references to the resilience to the reliance on the resonance of the reverence of the thing.
26. He wooed, she would. The food that could, if shewed, should be quite liberating.
27. We are all out and about on a floating boat. I have got a goat, you have gout. But the goat's gut is about to bloat. So I'm out.